Web Movement Basics

(A thorough discussion of web movements by Tim Hill, including half-tables, late arrivals, rovers, party tables and more can be found at <http://www.thesmolens.com/bridge/web%20movements.pdf>)

The movements we use are named Wttbb, where tt is the number of tables and bb is the number of board groups (A board group is a set of boards played in one round at one table. If playing 3 boards per round, boards 1-3, 4-6, 7-9, etc are board groups. If playing 2 boards per round, boards 1-2, 3-4, 5-6, etc are board groups). For example, W1208 is a movement for 12 tables with 8 board groups. We'd have 3 boards in each board group, so 24 boards would be in play. Another example: W1812 is a movement for 18 tables with 12 board groups. We'd have 2 boards in each board group, so again 24 boards would be in play.

Most tables will simply pass their boards to the next lower table, but some tables will get their boards from a bye stand while others send their boards to a bye stand. The Director should supervise the movement of boards to and from these tables.

Movements for an Even Number of Tables (where $bb \geq tt/2$ )

These are the simplest movements. We divide the game into 2 equal subsections, each with its own set of boards. Boards never leave their subsection and are passed to the next lower table for each round. Players move to the higher table each round. The 'magic' that makes the movement work is in the way the subsections are boarded.

The first subsection is boarded in the usual way, starting with the first board group and continuing until each table has boards. Any extra boards are placed on a bye stand from which they feed (in ascending order) to the highest table in the subsection. Boards from table 1 go to the bye stand.

To board the second subsection, start at the highest table and give it the last board group. Then give the next highest table the first board group and continue down the tables passing out boards in ascending order. Left over boards go to a bye stand that feeds the highest table. Boards from the lowest table go to the bye stand.

Note that in all web movements, the last subsection plays its boards in reverse order.

If  $bb$  is even, there is a skip after round  $bb/2$ .

Example: W2012 is a movement for 20 tables with 12 board groups, each containing 2 boards. The game is divided into two 10 table subsections. Tables 1 to 10 get boards 1 to 20. Boards 21 to 24 are placed on a bye stand near table 10. For tables 11 to 20, take out boards 1 to 18 and then place boards 23 and 24 on top. Then distribute the boards starting at table 20, moving down. Boards 19 to 22 are placed on a bye stand near table 20 (in reverse order - 21/22 on top and 19/20 below). Because there are 12 board groups (an even number), there will be a skip after round 6. This movement is described as '10 up - 10 down'.

Movements for an Even Number of Tables (where $bb < tt/2$ )

In some movements there are not enough board groups to fill the tables. In that case we will have 3 subsections and 3 sets of boards. The first subsection will be a straight Mitchell and the other two will be a web as described above.

Example: W2008 is a movement for 20 tables with 8 board groups, each containing 3 boards. The first subsection consists of tables 1 to 8. They get boards 1 to 24. The second subsection is tables 9 to 14. They get boards 1 to 18 and boards 19 to 24 are placed on a bye stand to feed table 14. For tables 15 to 20, take out boards 1 to 15 and place boards 22-24 on top.

Then distribute the boards starting at table 20, moving down. Boards 16 to 21 are placed on a bye stand near table 20 (in reverse order - 19/20/21 on top and 16/17/18 below). Because there are 8 board groups (an even number), there will be a skip after round 4. This movement is described as '8 up - 6 up - 6 down'.

To simplify the movement of boards, we let table 9 pass its boards to table 8 even though they're in different subsections. We put the boards played by table 1 on the bye stand for table 14. The boards played by table 15 go to the bye stand for table 20.

Movements for an Odd Number of Tables

These movements always have 3 subsections and an odd number of board groups. They are very similar to the 3 subsection movements described above, but there is never a skip. Also, they are set to play either 9 or 13 rounds, so if we want to play 8 or 12 we must truncate them in ACBLscore (F9, Option 2, change ending round).

Example: W1709 is a movement for 17 tables with 9 board groups, each containing 3 boards. The first subsection consists of tables 1 to 9. They get boards 1 to 27. The second subsection is tables 10 to 13. They get boards 1 to 12 and boards 13 to 27 are placed on a bye stand to feed table 13. For tables 14 to 17, take out boards 1 to 9 and place boards 25-27 on top. Then distribute the boards starting at table 17, moving down. Boards 10 to 24 are placed on a bye stand near table 17 (in reverse order - 22/23/24 on top, then 19/20/21, etc). This movement is described as '9 up - 4 up - 4 down'.

To simplify the movement of boards, we let table 10 pass its boards to table 9 even though they're in different subsections. We put the boards played by table 1 on the bye stand for table 13. The boards played by table 14 go to the bye stand for table 17.

Movement Descriptions

Each of the following pages contains a description of a web movement.
The following notes are used:

Boards remain means that boards stay within their subsection.

Boards pass through means that the lowest table in the 2nd subsection passes its boards to the highest table in the 1st subsection. Boards from table 1 go out of play unless/until needed by the highest table in the 2nd subsection.

Truncate for 24 means that the movement normally plays more than 24 boards, so the ending round must be changed in ACBLscore (F9, 2) to play 24 boards.
